

HEALTH AND SAFETY STATEMENT:

Soundguard Acoustics Ltd is committed to ensuring the safety of our employees, clients and anyone else affected by our business activities. Although legislation indicates that for organisations with less than 5 full-time employees a written health and safety policy is not required the company feels that it is good working practice to have a Health and Safety statement.

Soundguard Acoustics Ltd recognises the legal duties of the business and will encourage a safe working environment in all workplaces used by the company and will observe and abide by additional local health and safety regulations when visiting external sites and operations.

Soundguard Acoustics Ltd will provide safe working procedures, good working conditions and a healthy working environment and ensure that employees know of any potential hazards associated with any activity. The company will ensure that adequate training and instruction is received and administered to enable employees to work safely and efficiently.

Employees of Soundguard Acoustics Ltd will strive to maintain their safety standards, will use safe working methods, safe work equipment, and ensure their legal responsibility of taking care of their own health and safety and those that may be affected by their actions.

Soundguard Acoustics Ltd and its employees will fulfil its responsibilities by taking steps to work in accordance with relevant Health and Safety legislation, Approved Codes of Practice and Good Working practices when undertaking all of its business activity.
